

Ten Commandments for Nursing Students

Author Unknown

1. Thou shall be content with a given grade if it reflects your knowledge and effort. Always be honest with thyself.
2. Thou shall question.
3. Thou shall treat peers and professors with respect.
4. Thou shall acknowledge that thee can learn something new from each new experience.
5. Thou shall be an active participant in thee learning experience.
6. Thou shall read the assigned readings.
7. Thou shall organize thou's life to incorporate time for studying and school work.
8. Thou shall not miss important family events, but shall use thee discriminatory powers to discern what is important.
9. Thou shall keep plugging away.
10. Thou shall not lose sight of the goal yet not be so focused on the goal that thee do not appreciate and take advantage of the opportunities to learn and be a student.